

Interested in working in a coral nursery?

Job Opportunity for a Coral Reef Technician

Intermittent hire for approximately 5 months.
Work location is at the Hawaii Institute of Marine Biology.

SUMMARY OF DUTIES: 1) Coordinates activities related to coral nursery restoration project(s) including coordinating project staff, leading monitoring and restoration activities, maintaining supplies and materials, facilitating permits, scheduling project logistics; 2) Leads project staff including in water field work. in monitoring activities on snorkel and SCUBA, analyzes data and writes reports, meets with project partners; 3) Conducts literature reviews; 4) Supports the facilitation of meetings and workshops for example with DAR staff or project stakeholders; 5) Prepares progress and final reports.

QUALIFICATIONS: Bachelor's Degree from an accredited four (4) year college or university in Marine Biology, Marine Science, or a related field. At least one (1) year of work experience in marine science, including in-water monitoring. Ability to speak and write clearly, especially the ability to analyze and clearly explain data and draft reports requiring minimal review and editing. Proficiency with the Microsoft Office package including Word, Excel, and PowerPoint. Must possess a valid driver's license. Must be able to lift moderately heavy materials and supplies. Must have UH and AAUS Scientific Diving certification. Must be capable of handling all necessary diving equipment and procedures required in underwater research from shore and small boats.

SECONDARY QUALIFICATION: Familiarity with ArcGIS, CPCe and Coral Net.

Schedule: Variable (up-to 30 hours a week)

Wage: $19.00

To Apply: Submit a letter of interest, resume and the name and phone number of one academic contact who can speak to your qualifications for the position to: Risa Minato, Saunders Hall #718 or by email at charissa@hawaii.edu.

Posting Date: June 16, 2017

Closing Date: June 30, 2017 (or until position is filled).

An equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.